Fabricate

an exhibition of contemporary ceramics by Ingrid Tufts

Box Hill Community Arts Centre

Sunday 11 July 2010 to Friday 16 July 2010

Opening Sunday 11 July, 3-5pm

This body of work is about both making and making it up. To fabricate is to invent, create, construct or manufacture. This work is inspired by the way things are made and the things are made up. It draws on diverse imagery and texts to construct a fanciful collection of ceramics.

About Ingrid

I have been working with clay for the past 6 years now. Most of my work is functional tableware but recently I have been creating some sculptural pieces. Nearly all of my work is thrown on the wheel and then altered or turned and finished. I often work with text and much of my work contains literary reference - a rich source of inspiration. My work has themes and ideas that ebb and flow and often when I think I have explored an idea it will emerge again after a long hiatus with a different perspective. I work in my little studio - designing, making, firing and finishing. I don't think I will ever tire of the processes of making.
